Hamburgers are the perfect fuel for a road trip across America: culturally relevant, unpretentious and completely delicious. So jump in your yellow Mustang, turn up Alanis Morissette on the stereo and get your gnashers around the best burgers in the States. Here are five of the best to get your journey started:

3. Las Vegas, Nevada

Visit Sin City for a seriously indulgent offering from Holsteins Shakes and Buns, located on the Las Vegas Boulevard. The Billionaire Burger is created with a base of Kobe beef, topped with foie gras and glazed with a luxury truffle mayo. As for the rest of your time, choose from zip lining down the main street, catching a legendary performance at a headline hotel or taking a tour out of the city to the Grand Canyon.
